

Laura Hartrich is a quilter whose brightly colored work centers around themes of reflection, acceptance, time, and memory. She lives just outside Chicago in Oak Park, Illinois with her husband and two teenagers, and is currently in grad school studying occupational therapy. She is passionate about quilt stories and documentation and hopes to spark some of that passion in you!