From the President:

Hello Quilters!

I have a Halleluia moment to share with everyone this month! We have finally made a decision about the venue for the Quilt Arizona! Show in 2025!

Quilt Arizona! 2025 will be held once again at the Mesa Convention Center BUT there will be two important changes.

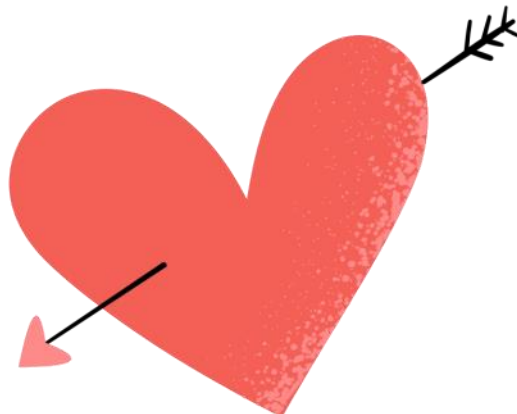

1. Instead of March, the show will be held on January 15-18th, 2025.
2. The intake and judging of the quilts will be done January 12-14th at a different location. Though there will be more effort involved in doing the intake and judging elsewhere, it will save several thousands of dollars off the cost of the show. Once this location is finalized, we will announce it to everyone.

I want to share that locating, screening, and negotiating with possible venues has been a time consuming and frustrating process. We contacted over 40 possible venues both in the Phoenix area and outside of Phoenix including casinos, hotels, community centers, colleges, civic centers, conference centers, churches, lodges etc. What we learned is there are very few locations that have enough space for our quilt show and are also within our budget. We also learned that verbal cost estimates from a venue can differ quite a bit from the actual costs listed in the contract we receive.

Throughout the process, our team persevered (though some of us may have more gray hair than we used to). I am confident we've made the best decision. I would like to extend my heartfelt thanks to everyone who was involved in this project. It was most definitely a team effort!

February 6 & February 17 – Mini Bargello Sunflower Zoom workshop

Jennifer Houlden

Sunflower quilt.

Feb 6, 6:00pm – 7:00pm (will be recorded)

Feb 17, 9:00am – 3:00pm

$40 for AQG members

Perfect precision is not required to create this stunning sunflower. With Jen's expert instruction, you will explore the world of colour to select fabrics for the flower, cut and sew your strips then cut and sew again, and last but not least arrange your strips to create a wave-like effect (the Bargello). Transform the Bargello into an amazing sunflower. Whether you're a seasoned quilter or a beginner, you'll leave this workshop with a beautiful Bargello

April 10 – Leave Quilts Not Fabric Zoom lecture

Jenny Kae Parks

6:30pm – 7:30pm

Complimentary for AQG members

Jenny Kae shares her thoughts about a heartbreaking experience from her days working at a local quilt shop. Then she offers several practical ways to finish UFO's and clean up your stash. This story touches the quilter's heart and is not to be missed.

Continued...

April 27 – Beautiful Machine Binding- Zoom workshop

Jenny Kae Parks

9:00am - noon

$22 for AQG members

Quilt binding can be challenging and frustrating for all quilters. Either it takes too long or never looks quite right. Either you have trouble joining your ends or your corners are bulky. Have no fear; it is time to learn a new way to bind your quilts. From start to finish, Jenny Kae shares her most requested technique: machine quilt binding.

With just a few tips and tools you will create fast, accurate and beautiful binding. You'll never dread binding your quilt again!

This workshop is perfect for all quilters, even beginners!

See the AQG website for more details and for registration for all of these events.

Quilt Show 2024

March 21-23 at the Mesa Convention Center

Quilt Arizona! 2024

March 21-23, 2024

From February 1, 2024, the Quilt Show is only 50 days away.

Around 375 quilts were registered by the January 6th deadline and efforts continue to complete the Entry process. You should be receiving your entry packets by email starting February 18th.

Vendor registration is still in process and going well.

Volunteer registration opened on January 5th. While it doesn't close until March 15th, it's much more helpful to us if volunteers would register earlier vs. later. We sleep better at night if we know we have the help we will need. Please register if you haven't already. And, thank you for volunteering.

We have a new Youth Program this year called "Next Gen" (next generation of quilters). Around the beginning of March, a voucher will be sent to all members that will allow free admission for 1 adult bringing a child under 18. If the child participates in the Next Gen activities on either Friday or Saturday afternoon, they can enter a drawing for a new sewing machine. Let's create the next generation of quilters!

Raffle baskets will be a new feature this year. We would like to thank all of you that donated fabrics or quilting supplies to support this fundraiser.

Cactus Patchers of Tempe

submitted by Heidi Weinmann

Cactus Patchers have been busy this winter. We had our annual holiday party at the Pyle Center, and enjoyed a feast. In addition to our delicious pot luck, we played a few rowdy rounds of Left, Right, Center for fat quarters, and raffled off two sets of blocks. Both sets were won by Stephanie, who has already sewn them into tops. These will be finished and donated to our charity, Sunshine Acres. The fat quarters were won by Cecelia and Diane, who now have quite a bit more fabric to organize.

Lucky for them, and all of us, Mary led a lively discussion in January on the topic of setting goals and utilizing our sewing spaces effectively. We worked on narrowing down what we want to tackle, and we thought about what we might let go that is no longer working for us. Through our discussion, we learned that there are several experts among us who can help us reach our quilting goals. For some of us, that means working on smaller projects. Dianna's upcoming tissue box cover make and take fits the bill perfectly.

As always our show and tell has been inspiring and entertaining

Copper Country Quilters of Globe

submitted by Ellen Kretsch

One day leads to another, just like one fat quarter leads to another pattern and one quilt leads to another show. The Copper Country Quilters are busy getting ready for their annual Pieces of Friendship Quilt Show which will open Saturday, Feb. 17 at the Cobre Valley Center for the Arts in downtown Globe. The show will run through March 3 and will feature dozens of beautiful quilts and wall hangings. There is no entry fee, but donations to the center are always appreciated as are ticket purchases for the new opportunity quilt to be unveiled at the show.

The Copper Country Quilters wear a variety of hats, and they took off their guild hat to put on another hat for the fall county fair. In an effort to keep such a wonderful family program viable, the guild assumed chairmanship of the homemaking arts department for the Gila County Fair committee. The fair drew thousands of visitors. The guild members once again teamed up to put on a superb event in the exhibit hall. Open to all quilters and crafters, the department drew record entries and showcased the work of county residents in a family fun atmosphere. Many thanks to Darla Orndorff and Kathy O'Brien, who judged this year's homemaking arts entries. This meant that all quilt entrants received a quality professional critique of their work. Homemaking arts received an expanded portion of the exhibit hall this year, allowing us a superb display.

In early December, the guild delivered some 30 quilts to local senior centers. The quilts were made by guild members and this delivery was one of several made through the year.

Guild members culminated the year with a delicious Christmas luncheon at the home of member Soli Wantland. Plenty of good food, conversation and games were a wonderful way to kick off the holiday season. Patty Bettese, a seasoned seamstress, but new to quilting, was the lucky winner of nearly 50 fat quarters after a spirited round of Left, Right, Center.

Come see us in February for the Pieces of Friendship show. There will be an opening reception beginning at 11 am on Saturday, Feb. 17. Award winners will be announced as part of the reception.

A sampling of colorful quilts delivered to the local senior centers as part of the community service work of Copper Country Quilters.

Members enjoyed a lovely luncheon for Christmas, we all needed a nap after a delicious meal, but managed to find the energy for a few games and a gift exchange.

Patty Bettese was excited to show off an armload of fat quarters she won at the Christmas party.

Daisy Mountain Quilters of Anthem

submitted by Robin Wheat

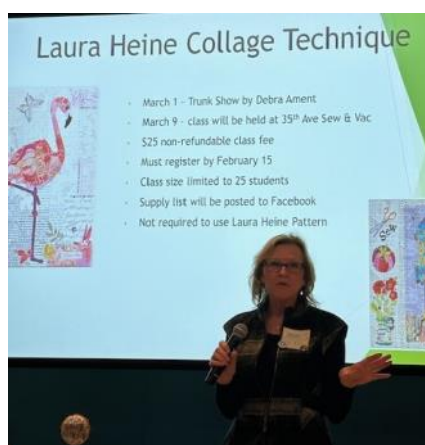

2023 wrapped up with a wonderful holiday luncheon and meeting where we played games, held a crazy Christmas gift exchange, elected 2024 officers, ate a catered lunch and had a fun Show&Tell. So to start off 2024, our new Chapter Chair, Marlys Houge, introduced members who are shouldering various segments of our meetings. Janet Schrey, our Programs Chair, presented our January Sew Day demo of a paper pieced Cactus in Bloom block that members can learn or practice their technique making. She also invited everyone to sew the National Quilt of Valor Block, the Ohio Star, and to be guests at the Daisy Mountain QOV Sew Day at Spirit of Hope Church in Peoria on February 3rd. Coming up in March, Janet has invited Debra Ament to come to our meeting and present a trunk show of her work. She will follow up with a class on the Laura Heine technique at 35th Avenue Sew & Vac on March 9th. Our Show&Tell yielded quite a few donation quilts for our charity, Veterans First, as well as viewings of members' versions of our 2023 DMQ Mystery Quilt, which were all very different and very beautiful. Our guest speaker was Pam Fitzgibbons, professional organizer, who gave us great ideas to organize our sewing spaces.

Havasu Stitchers

submitted by Susan George

Well, here I am again to tell you about our memories and friends.

1st – Our year closed with an absolutely delightful Christmas gathering. Terrie Eller and her amazing elves presented a fantastic luncheon of Greek deliciousness, games and just an all-around fun time. Attendees were asked to come dressed as their favorite character...we saw Little Orphan Block Annie, the ever-typical camera toting tourist, the snow "flake" and the ever-present Lula Mae. Best of all our Member of the Year was announced...Anastasia Swinkles. Congrats to you, my friend, for your thoughtful dedication to promoting our quilting passions. What a delightful day. Thanks Terrie and elves. It was SEW much fun.

Next, January started off with the finalizing of Quilt Show plans. Advertising has been over the top...Anastasia (our quilt challenge chair) made special arrangements for our challenge quilts to be displayed for two weeks in the lobby of City Hall. If you can't make it to City Hall, to see all the 20x20 quilts...you'll find them front and center at the quilt show. After all it is a must see!!! And, just sew ya'll know, the Quilt Show is February 2nd and 3rd at the Aquatic Center here in Lake Havasu City. Hope you can come, as it'll be something special to see. We'll have lots of pretty quilts, vendors, Sew Up a Creek Boutique, Heart's Desire, Opportunity Quilt...and sew much more.

I'm certain that there is sew much more to share, but my space is limited. Sew, I'll save it for next time. If I didn't tell you before, let me tell you now...HAPPY NEW YEAR!!! I hope your quilting adventures for 2024 are blessed with straight seams, full bobbins, and NO ripping.

Til next time, HAPPY QUILTING

Kingman Quilters

submitted by Sally Bradley

Our January business meeting was at our new location. We are now meeting at Journey Church, 3782 N. Bank St., in the kids room. I don't know why it is called Bank St., there is not one bank on that street, maybe because it is located on the bank of a wash. Anyway it is a big enough room for classes and meetings and is well lit.

Our next order of business was a presentation from Tom Fenech, a Veteran and former NYC fireman who worked the day and months after the 911 tragedy. He shared some of his experiences and items from the destruction. He was also presented with a Quilt of Honor and shared his thanks, with his wife, Dorothy, for its special meaning.

Night Owls of Phoenix

submitted by Theresa Baethke

Night Owls celebrated nine birthdays in January. Our member, Nina, turns 95 this month! Everyone was encouraged to sign an autograph block.

Each month, Night Owl members put their name in a cup. One name is drawn for our Who's Whoooo. The winner draws a question and answers in order to get to know a little more about our members. Sue Wong, this month's winner, informed all of us that she has attended a National Quilt Show.

She attended the Houston show many times. She said the quilts were amazing, the teachers effective and the vendors wonderful.

After the AQG news, we discussed Night Owl membership. If paying the $20 in cash, it should be paid at the meeting, checks can be mailed to Teresa Darling. To pay by Paypal, go to <https://paypal.me/AQGNightOwlsChapter>.

We were able to enjoy many pictures of donations given throughout the year. We donated 365 quilts and many penguins. These were all given to St Paul's church for distribution.

Kim James revealed this month's BOM. She named it Gladys and recommended everyone use FPP for the zig zag sides and center.

Mary Lynott introduced a Brown Bag Panel Challenge. Each bag contains a panel. The challenge is to create something from the panel. All items are due at the October 8, 2024 meeting. Viewer's choice will win a gift card. Contact Mary if you have any questions. Those who were not at the January meeting can pick up a panel at the February meeting. Several photos of examples were shown to give us ideas.

Beth Henning of Ego Altered Fashions was our guest this month. Several Night Owl members modeled her designs. She adds embroidery and embellishments, such as buttons, ribbon, lace and beads.

Our next meeting: February 13, 2024, 6:30 pm.

Sew Days: Every Wednesday, 9:00am – 2:00 pm

Spring Retreat: Feb 7-11
at Memory House in Peoria

Nimble Thimbles of Chandler

submitted by Joanne Reiter

November was an active month for Nimble Thimbles, which found itself hosting meetings, and sew-ins at various locations. Our first in-person meeting showcased Pam Rackley of Sweet Pzs Designs, treating us to a wonderful display of new items in her store in Gilbert, AZ. Of particular interest were new pins, Sewing needles that are resistant to spray-on adhesives, gripper spray for rulers and Lori Holt patterns.

Our second meeting was our Fall Harvest Fun Night. Tables were set up for teaching approaches to English Paper Piecing, Sashiko and fabric flowers. Instructors included our own Colleen Euge, Diane Pitchford and Joanne Reiter. Combined with yummy home-baked goodies, it was a welcome start to the holiday season. In addition to meetings, Nimble Thimbles stayed busy with sew-ins. A kick-off party sew-in was held November 24 at Sweet Pzs Designs in Gilbert, while our Jo Sutliff hosted two TGIF sew-ins at the Makery Room at Chandler Library on November 3rd and 17.

December activities were scaled back, due to holidays. No in-person meetings were held, but we were certainly busy with a fabulous potluck sew-in on December 30th at Sweet Pzs, while TGIF sew-ins at the Chandler Library were held on December 1st and 15th and hosted by Jo Sutliff.

Rippers of Mesa

submitted by Wendy Beesley

The Holiday spirit prevailed for the December Ripper's Meeting. Festivities included gifts for everyone in their Christmas Baskets, gift exchange for the Gnome wall hangings and of course a beautiful, delicious, holiday meal. We all left with both our minds, and bodies filled with Holiday Cheer.

January always brings a bit of new life to our group with the return of our Winter Visitors and new members joining. This month our meeting included the Grande Final to our annual Fat Quarter Challenge coordinated by Connie Clark. Connie provided the Challenge fabric and rules last spring to all choosing to participate. Ten members accepted and completed the Challenge. All members present participated in the judging. Congratulations to the winners: Best Coordinating Fabric Connie Clark, using a Moda Ombre. Most Creative Use of Challenge Fabric Suzanne Melching. Overall Favorite Susan Casey. Each of the winners received a small cash prize.

Maddy Hartwell will be teaching the February Ripper Class on the fourth Wednesday of the month. Maddy will be instructing us on the techniques for creating a beautiful Venetian quilt. All who participate will surely have fun and learn something new. Also, we all look forward to our February Meeting as it is our month to celebrate all Ripper birthdays and such a celebration it is.

Strawberry Patchers of Pine, Payson, Strawberry & Happy Jack

submitted by Jane Wilcox

Old Man Winter wasted no time in January, bringing loads of snow to Pine/Strawberry! What's a girl to do... sew, we held our monthly meeting the first Thursday of the month, and many managed to get there!

Many Thanks were sent to the Patchers for our charitable funding from donations in December. Jackie Smith, our Correspondence Chair, also ready four thank you's for comfort quilts sent out. Our Comfort Quilt program is a huge success. We happily received our AQG Mini Grant (Thank you very much, AQG) and our Country Store made the goal that Kris Lovetro aimed for in 2023!!

We want to welcome Carol Baxter as our new Website designer. Through her creative endeavors, we've been able to present a wonderful on-line presence! It's just in time for our Annual Strawberry Patcher Quilt Show in June, too!

Major Kudos to Kathy Hunt, Lori Omart and Tamara Morken for their work for our Christmas Party! We have outgrown the back room at the Brewery, and are searching for a new location for our 2024 party!

February we will gear up for more community sew days making Christmas stockings and Easter Bags. The 22nd, Leslie Peacock will be demonstrating paper piecing. We have a leap year in 2024, the final Thursday, February 29th we'll leap onto something fun I'm sure!

If you would like to join us for our business meeting, we meet the first Thursday of the month at the Library Annex building on the Pine Community Center complex. 9:00 is coffee and snacks and the meeting begins at 9:30am. Sew days on the 3rd Thursday of the month are for members only, but we will happily reserve a spot for you for joining our chapter!
