

Quilt Show Reminder:

Quilt Entry continues until January 7, 2022

Your quilt does not have to be complete by that date. It can be a flimsy (top only, not quilted), it just needs to be done enough for the committee to see the design.

The AQG Board wishes all of you a Safe and Happy New Year!!

From the President ...

Happy New Year! This year is going to be even better, I feel it.

Here are a few of my resolutions for this year.

Sew more.

Finish UFO's (unfinished objects).

Finish PHD's (Projects half done).

Make Scrap quilts.

Take a walk every day.

Now that my sewing room is done, I should be able to sew lots of projects next year.

Looking forward to the Quilt show. Make sure to enter your quilts by the deadline of January 7, 2022. I'm sure that there are lots of beautiful quilts out there.

The deadline for volunteering is March 18, 2022. Volunteer now to get the spot you want. You will get into the show for free.

AQG FUN DAY was fun, this year everyone got a door prize. Thanks to all of you who came and joined us for the festivities.

Happy Quilting,

Nancy Laswick

AQG's First Fun Day Was FUN!

By Jo Ann Bergdoll

Seems like a silly title, doesn't it? I mean, you would expect to have fun at an event with such a name, right?

BUT... AQG never held one before. AND Covid is still a "thing." AND many of our members are still becoming adjusted to meeting in person. What was the AQG Board thinking?

Well, it seems like more than 135 of us were willing to try out this new experience.

Meeting at Venue 8600 in north Scottsdale, just off the 101 Freeway, members enjoyed a day of opportunities to do what many quilters enjoy doing. Hanging out with other quilters. Meeting people in person! (Not just as talking heads on ZOOM.) Shopping the vendors. Buying tickets for 10 amazing raffle baskets. Bidding on vintage quilts in a silent auction. Playing games hosted by our president, Nancy Laswick, who not only went through "costume changes" but ensured that everyone, yes, EVERYONE, won a door prize of her choice of fabric bundles. Enjoying 2 dynamic speakers, watching their trunk shows and coming away inspired. Thank you, Jessica Dickinson the "Scrap Mama" who took us on her Journey Through Scrap Mountain and Cindy Lohbeck, who not only shared her Diary of a Dyehard but actually demonstrated her fool-proof process for hand dyeing fabrics while keeping us in giggles throughout her presentation.

Members mentioned other things that added to their fun. The cell phone case lanyards were pretty and practical. (Thank you, Daisy Mountain Quilters.) Enough door prize bundles ensured that all participants went home winners. The contents of the raffle baskets were amazing. All held at least the equivalent of 9 yards of fabric, and one contained 170 fat quarters of 30's reproduction fabrics!

Yes, the AQG Board took a risk putting this event together, hoping that if we held it, you would come. We held it. You came. And, you had fun! Thank you, members! The AQG Board had fun, too. Let's do it again sometime.

Dear Aunt Quiltie - Advice Column,

How can I be more creative in designing my quilt border? At AQG Quilt Shows, I have seen scallop and wavy borders and they are beautiful. Are they hard to design?

Scallop and wavy borders are easy to create and there are numerous YouTube videos and templates to help in designing borders. I have found 4 different techniques available on YouTube that are easy to do.

1. Quilt in a Day Scallops, Vines, and Waves #2019 Template

This is my favorite technique. The template comes with an instruction booklet which includes three quilt edges.

- a. Measure the sides of your quilt. Subtract 4 inches. Example: 84 inches – 4 inches.
- b. Divide the measurement by 7, 8, 9, or 10 or look at the chart in the instruction booklet to determine the length of the scallop. In this example, 10 scallops will be used with a length of 8 inches.
- c. Mark diagonal lines on the corners. Knowing the length of your scallops and with the template, mark off the select measurements.
- d. Place the corner of the template on the diagonal line and with using chalk or a marker draw the curve. The booklet has diagrams and it is a lot easier to understand.
- e. Mark the remaining edge. Top stitch the curved edge.
- f. I usually add the scallops after the entire quilt top has been quilted but you can also do it before quilting.
- g. After adding bias binding, scallops can be trimmed 1/8 inch from the marked line.

2. The Sewing Channel No Math No Ruler Scallops

- a. Draw a circle such as 7 ½ inch. Use a magic marker to draw the edges of the circle so they will be dark.
- b. Keep two full circles for the corners. Copy additional circles for the edges. Fold and cut circles in half.
- c. Place on the quilt edge overlapping the circles. Measure the overlap so all of the circles are spaced evenly. Adjust as necessary and pin in place.
- d. Trace the fabric around the curve and stay stitch the curves. Cut to each point.
- e. Sew on bias binding. You can even use a zipper foot. Cut remaining curved fabric.

3. Bosal Scallop Placemat Batting

Bosal has batting specifically for making place mats with a scallop edge. Shabby Fabrics has a video on this technique.

4. Missouri Star Darlene Zimmerman Waves

Darlene Zimmerman has a series of templates that can be adjusted based on the width of the quilt and how many scallops or waves you would like.

Cholla Quilters of Mesa

submitted by Patti Kupferer

Winding Up the Year in Style!

So much is happening as the year slowly (or quickly) winds to an end. We will be elected new officers at the December meeting and saying goodbye to some retiring officers. We are very thankful for everyone who has served as an officer or in a volunteer position this past year.

The 2021 President's Challenge, Hope for the Future, was a huge success and some of the quilts appear here. Even with all the challenge quilts presented, we still had plenty of Show and Tell quilts/items and a lot of charity quilts.

The Navajo Christmas Airlift was a huge success this year. Four different quilt groups, our own AQG Cholla Quilters, Las Sendas Quilters, Terravita Resident Quilters and AQS Sunrise Quilters, participated. Many thanks to Pam S. for coordinating all four groups, arranging drop off site and organizing the transport of the items to the hanger. and contacting the pilots again this year. It was quite a party atmosphere in the parking lot when we dropped off our donations. It took 8 large vehicles to take all the goodies to the hanger at Falcon Field. The pilots estimated that it took 10 airplanes to deliver the donations to SWIF, Southwest Indian Foundation in Gallop for distribution on the reservation. Our retiring pilot drove a pickup in the truck and trailer caravan truck up to Gallop to deliver the two sewing machines in cabinets and other bulky items that were donated by our groups. It is humbling to be part of such generous groups.

We had our charity sew day last month and were able to see many of the finished products this month. Four were made from left over orphan blocks. These quilts are wonderful and are donated to such worthy causes!

Let's not forget the holiday table runner class that Kathie taught. Everyone had so much fun while learning! We're looking forward to seeing some finished runners at the next meeting. Lucelle did an impromptu demo on quilt mats too. This certainly was not a class to miss.

At this time, we are looking forward to the hybrid holiday party the "party gnomes" are preparing so carefully for us. Happy Holidays to Everyone!

The November quilt show was a rousing success! December is quite busy as well. Our members celebrated the season with a potluck luncheon and party. We participated in the Payson Christmas Light Parade...such fun. Lots of quilts, walking Christmas trees and so much joy. We will be back in regular session January 3, 2022 meeting at 9:30 a.m. at the VA on Hwy 260. There are lots of plans for a great year of sewing, quilting, and supporting charities and one another. Check out our Facebook page Shoofly Quilters for more pics from the Christmas Parade.

Night Owls of Phoenix

submitted by Penny Liston, Chatter Reporter

So many awesome activities. The best is, we are meeting in person. Our meeting began with making centerpieces at the tables. Then we voted on our favorite. We also had a napkin folding lesson and how to fold a square napkin into a rose taught by our fabulous Secretary Beth Norris. And lastly we made a warm winter fleece scarf to keep our necks cozy. Charity quilts were shown. We proudly completed over 300 quilts, 620 pillowcases, 800 eyeglass cases, and about 40 lbs. of toiletries under the leadership of Janet Kraus. Night Owls also had a two year challenge to complete our UFO's led by Mary Lynott. Joann Lang had the oldest UFO completed. Congratulation! Enjoy our pictures.

Desert Threads of Sun Lakes

submitted by Pat Sinclair

At their December meeting Desert Threads members and guests celebrated the Holidays! Bring and Brag at the end of the meeting featured many holiday themes and new techniques. In addition we had a postcard exchange. One of our members commented that 3 of the post cards highlighted snowmen— for people who live in the desert!

Desert Threads continued

Jared Platt, son of Mary Platt, was the speaker at the December meeting. He is a professional photographer and started his presentation discussing the three most important things to consider in photography. They are composition, light and texture. Texture is what defines color. Color is affected by the direction and distance of the light source. Color also changes with highlights and shadows. Light can be warm or cold pending on the source. He showed many of his photos to illustrate his presentation. In addition, he gave tips and pointers on the many options available on modern smartphones.

Everyone is looking forward to 2022 and our program chairs are busy scheduling programs for our monthly meetings. In addition there is an all day class scheduled in January on how to make bargello quilts. Each month we will learn a new technique and work on charity quilts.

Strawberry Patchers of Pine, Payson, Strawberry, Happy Jack

submitted by Jackie Smith

T'was three weeks before Christmas, when all through the meal, there were Strawberry Patchers preparing to steal. The presents were placed by the eggnog with care, all wrapped in their glorious Christmassy flair. Each time a fabulous present was picked, a Grinch of a Patcher made sure it was nicked. They tugged, and tussled, and tangled with laughter, until no gifts at all were left after.

Ok, I'm no poet, but we did have a lot of fun. Members attending brought lovely handmade gifts to exchange—the catch is the mischievous Dirty Santa way in which we exchange those lovely gifts. Thanks go to the Christmas Party Committee for hosting and cooking: Kathy Hunt, Lori Ohmart and Tamara Morken. Thanks also to Monika Hancock for the cute cookies she always makes, and to Leslie Peacock, Margie Brakefield and Chris Mahon for ornaments and door prizes.

It’s heartwarming to see that wherever Linda goes in the community there are appreciative young people coming up to her for hugs. Linda always remembers their names and always has encouraging words. She is a testament to the heart of education. The community thanks you, Linda, and we

The Card Tricks Chapter met for our annual Christmas Party and Potluck on Thursday, December 9, 2021 at noon. The potluck meal was delicious and enjoyed by all attending. This chapter has welcomed many new members over the year, what fun to gather for fun, food and laughter.

The next item was a donation presentation to the executive director, Margaret Heath, of the non-profit organization, Walking Down Ranch. More than 650 veterans have received assistance at the Ranch since 2014. With the funds the WDR provides transitional housing, food, clothing, medical transportation and other services as needed to assist veteran. It was our pleasure to contribute to the WDR.

Havasu Stitchers of Lake Havasu City

submitted by Susan George

Howdy!!! It's me again, reporting from glorious shores of Lake Havasu. Hope your holidays were great and you were able to finish those lovely, quilted gifts in time for Christmas. With our quilt show over and done, we have moved on to new adventures. As I write, we have just celebrated the season and events of the past year with our annual Christmas Luncheon at Shugrue's. It was a great time. The Christmas Party committee out did themselves. (Thank you, TERRIE ELLER, for leading the way.) I don't think the committee missed a stitch...there were games, prizes, entertainment and of course, great food.

Havasu Stitchers Continued

We also celebrated the announcement of our MEMBER OF THE YEAR. Historically, this honor is awarded to the member who has contributed most to our quilting mission of educating and promoting the appreciation of quilts to our membership and the community. And, this year, the honor was bestowed upon MINDY HOIUM. Mindy has contributed greatly to our guild. She has been the past 1st VP of Education and 2nd VP of Membership. She has also been actively involved in the Quilt Show(s) as the Chairperson of Quilt Registration. Mindy's current task is that of coordinating a quilt retreat to Missouri Star in August 2022. (And boy howdy, are we looking forward to that.) Mindy is always stepping up to help whenever and wherever needed and we appreciate all of her efforts. CONGRATULATIONS, MINDY on receiving this award.

Well, the new year is looking bright for us. The Education Committee (Sherri Ashford, Lisa Mousel and Judy Justus) has already scheduled a number of terrific quilting adventures in which we can participate. The first will be a Mystery Quilt retreat on New Years Day. (I can't wait till next time to tell you of its success and reveal the mystery to you. Sew, stay tuned.)

Well, I know there's more I can say, but I won't. I'll save it for another time because, if you were to spend time reading my masterpiece, you would certainly miss out on creating your own quilted treasures.

Sew, I bid you adieu at this time and pray that 2022 brings you happiness, good health and of course... quilting adventures galore.

Sunrise Stitches' of Scottsdale

submitted by Nancy Cisar

Our group celebrated our December meeting with a Christmas Party. We all looked forward to this meeting since we could not have the party last year due to the pandemic. Our members each bring a dish to share, including meats, salads, and many desserts. It's a great time to share favorite recipes with each other.

Our planning committee set the room with Christmas tablecloths, napkins, centerpieces, and a candy treat shaped as a Christmas Tree or Santa's sleigh for each one.

Once the meal was complete, our wonderful leader, Eva, led us in a fun game with balloons.

Then Margarete and Martina had us draw a Christmas tree without looking at what we were drawing—that exercise certainly brought a lot of laughs when we could look at our finished product—What trees???

Last we had a gift exchange with a lot of steals so all had lots of oh no and not again!

Needless to say the party was a success.

Sunrise Stitches Show & Tell December 2021

We shared our show and tell of members creative projects:

We are happy to be able to meet in person once again and welcomed our returning Canadian member. We look forward to our new year when we will once again start on our UFO's and hopefully complete some of them!! Quilters always have many projects—

Nimble Thimbles of Chandler

submitted by Penny Boese

Helen Godden of Australia dazzled us with her art quilts in her lecture during our November Zoom meeting. Helen's innovative art quilt techniques include painting with bleach, painting with acrylic on fabric, painting with dye and salt, and free-motion yarn couching. She recently completed a 6.5 x 1.5 meter (that's more than 21x4 feet!) quilt depicting her Australia. Helen's journey through quilting was fascinating to hear.

We are not meeting in December, but will continue an in person meeting and Zoom meeting combination in January.

Community service continues to warm hearts with the delivery of quilts to our community partners. In October, Kathy O'Brien delivered 54 quilts and 12 afghans: Gathering Humanity, 7 quilts; VA Moms and Babies, 19 quilts; Hospice of the Valley, 5 quilts; Pregnancy Care Center, 22 quilts and 12 afghans. Thank you Kathy and Judy Locke for all you do to help Nimble Thimbles serve the community, and to all of the Nimble Thimbles members who keep CS vibrant with your donations of time, talents and fabric.

Kingman Quilters

submitted by Sally Bradley

In November we held our annual presentation of Quilter of Honor to Mohave County Veterans. It was held at the Mohave Museum of History and Arts. Quilts made by members were received well by those present.

Our Christmas Meeting was a very festive event. The tables were decorated by Sally C. and members were asked to bring additional placemats and decorations for their seating area. She also made goodie bags for each of our members. She is so generous. We conducted our business meeting and then moved on to the more fun events. The Brown Bag secret event, where items were made from one orphan block from a quilter's stash. The variety returned was surprising. We also had an ornament exchange which was done with a reading of A Quilter's Night Before Christmas. We then moved on to Show 'N Share followed by a fabulous potluck with lots of goodies and roast turkey and all the fixings. What a fun way to celebrate the Season. Merry Christmas, Seasons Greetings and Happy New Year!
